FIELD NOTE

Morrison Creek
Mendocino County

On this date, all streams flowing from the east and crossing the old river road between Talmadege and East Hopland were checked in regard to the rough fish control project for the Russian River. Morrison Creek, as well as all of the ~~well~~ (un)[sic]named creeks through this area, were dry at the road crossings. According to various property owners, these streams did contain water in their upper reaches, but there the fish population was composed entirely of trout. Although these streams should be checked at some convenient time in the future, it was decided that for purposes of rough fish control no work need be done on them at present.
